

MEETthe..... TEACHER

My name is Amanda Marty and I have been teaching at CA since November of 2007. I started in the Second Grade classroom and taught for eight and a half years. After taking a few years off, to stay home with my babies, I returned and started teaching Fifth Grade. This is my third year in Fifth Grade and I love it. Creating new lessons like launching bottle rockets in Science and building a cross curricular Unit on the Boston Tea Party has brought my love of teaching to a whole new level!

My husband Brian and I live in Chokio with our three girls, Hannah (1st grade), Lillian (PreK) and Emily (3 years old). We love having our kids go to CA because with small class sizes, the whole school is one big family. Older students and younger students build this bond that you may not see at a larger school. Our kids will have the same teachers that we know and love. Oh and Wanda's food for Breakfast and Lunch is amazing!
